

Danielle Carnival, BS, PhD

Danielle Carnival, BS, PhD is leading President Joe Biden's effort to "end cancer as we know it" as the White House Cancer Moonshot Coordinator, a position to which she was appointed in February 2022 by the President. She also serves as Senior Advisor to the Director in the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy (OSTP). Prior to her return to the White House in July 2021, Dr. Carnival served as the CEO of I AM ALS, Vice President of the Biden Cancer Initiative, and several previous posts in the OSTP during President Barack Obama's administration including as an American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS) Science and Technology Policy Fellow. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Biochemistry from Boston College and a PhD in Neuroscience from Georgetown University.