

Jamie Johnson

Jamie Johnson has been a special education teacher at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia for 14 years and has taught for a total of 20 years. Most of Johnson's teaching experience at CHOP has been in the rehabilitation setting working with children with brain injury and school re-entry. She has been a BrainSteps member for the past 10 years within the Philadelphia School teams and CHOP personnel.

She recently transitioned to the role of inpatient education coordinator for Acute Care where she specializes in providing children ages 6-21 access to school services and education coordination while in the hospital setting.

Fun Fact:

Johnson recently received the Citadel Heart of Learning Award 2021 for Philadelphia. This is an award for recognizing excellence in teaching. This was the first year Philadelphia was recognized within this award.